Iran Drops UN Red Complaint

TEHRAN, Iran, April 15 (AP)—Prince Mozaffar Firouz, propaganda director, said today Hussein Ala, Iranian ambassador to the United States, had been instructed "immediately to withdraw Iran's complaint before the Security Council." The nation previously had made an issue before the United Nations over the continued presence of Russian troops, which Moscow now says will be withdrawn by May 6.

Firouz made this statement: "Conditions and circumstances which dictated the giving of the complaint to the Security Council no longer arise, and in view of the fact that yesterday afternoon the Russian ambassador again categorically reiterated to his excellency, the prime minister, that complete and unconditional evacuation by the Red army would be completed by May 6, instructions have been sent this morning by the Persian government informing its representative in New York of the new pledge of the Soviet government and instructing him that since the Persian government has complete confidence in the word and pledge of the Soviet government, he is instructed immediately to withdraw the complaint before the Security Council."

An official foreign source at Tabriz, capital of semi-autonomous Azerbaijan province, said today there still were no signs of Russian evacuation there.

"The Red army is improving its communications systems and putting up a new rest camp and officers' resident facilities," the informant said.

UN Debate Expected Over Iranian Issue

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—Another sharp debate over the Iranian case was forecast for today's session of the United Nations Security Council despite instructions from the Iranian government to its ambassador to "immediately withdraw" the complaint before the council.

British sources took the view that the mere fact of Iran asking to have the matter taken off the agenda would not of itself end the business as far as the Council was concerned. These sources took the attitude that any elimination move was up to the delegates.

The United States course was represented as being that the council had assumed troops would be withdrawn when it postponed consideration to next month and any statement to that effect now by either government would merely be confirmation.

A spokesman for the Mexican delegation said, however, that the council could do nothing but withdraw the question in view of the Iranian statement.

New Conference On Fish Tieup

Union crews and owners of the 35 trawlers, tied up for 16 weeks as the result of an impasse over the splitting of hauls, have been summoned to conference with the State Board of Conciliation at 4 p. m. today.

The tieup, longest in the port's record, went into effect after the Atlantic Fishermen's Union, AFL, asked vessel owners for 60 per cent of each trawler's catch. Previously crews and owners split 50-50.

A conditional request for representatives of both sides to appear before the Port of Boston Authority tomorrow, if no basis for settlement of the dispute is agreed upon today, has been made by the port group.

DENIES WIFE'S DEATH—Prof. Adolph Zech, professor of German at the University of Missouri, was found fatally shot in the head today with a suicide note near his body in which he denied the poison-death of his wife, Marie, who succumbed last week. His wife died by arsenic poisoning.

Roll Call on Draft Demanded in House

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—House members clamored today for a recorded vote on passage of a cut-down draft extension bill, with its five-month induction holiday and ban against drafting teenagers. There were no roll call votes when the bill was put in shape for final approval today.

No one asked for a roll call on banning induction of 18 and 19-year-olds, and fewer than 50 members demanded a record vote on the amendment halting all inductions between May 15 and Oct. 15.

With more than 300 members on the floor, 61 requests were necessary before the roll could be called.

On the sudden desire for a roll call vote on final passage in the House, one prominent Democrat stated privately:

"On the face of it, it looks like good politics," one high-up Democrat told reporters privately. "Members running for re-election this year can point to their support of the President and Gen. Eisenhower by citing their vote for draft extension."

"No one can accuse them of having voted to cripple the bill with amendments because there is no record on how anyone voted on the amendments."

Dream's End

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP)—Two would-be movie queens met a star, but it was on Traffic Policeman T. D. Cunningham's blue coat.

Truman Bids Americas Unite in Bold Program

By JOHN A. REICHMANN

WASHINGTON, April 15 (INS)—President Truman called today for a bold program of inter-American economic advancement as the surest guarantee of peace. The President, in his address to the governing board of the Pan-American Union, declared no nation can stand alone in the atomic age and asserted that the alternative to co-operation is "complete devastation."

Mr. Truman told representatives of the American republics, gathered in the great Hall of the Americas, that the United Nations principle is built on the Good Neighbor Policy initiated by the late President Roosevelt. He declared:

"Based on those foundations the United Nations now has been launched on its career. I know that it will succeed. It must succeed."

The President asserted:

"Before us now lies a new era in which the power of atomic energy has been released. That age will either be one of complete devastation, or one in which new sources of power will lighten the labors of mankind and increase standards of living all over the world."

"It is a dangerous adventure which we face. In it the people of all the American republics will have to play their special part."

Mr. Truman declared with emphasis that the peoples of the world have shown their willingness to use force, if necessary, to prevent aggression or the threat of aggression.

The President noted, however, that exercise of force will not eliminate the causes of war. He said:

"Underneath the Nazi madness were the material distress and spiritual starvation born of poverty and despair. These evil forces were seized upon by evil men to launch their program of tyranny and aggression."

"The danger of war will never be completely wiped out until these economic ills which constitute the roots of war are themselves eliminated."

The President declared that "certain political rights are fundamental to freedom—free speech, a free press, the right of peaceable assembly, freedom of conscience and the right of the people to choose their form of government."

Mr. Truman continued: "It is obvious that these goals require first of all the efforts of each nation within itself."

"But if we have learned anything in the last decade it is that no nation can stand alone. Only through a genuine co-operative effort can these goals be achieved in this world at large."

BUTTE, Mont., April 15 (AP)—Gov. Sam Ford disclosed today at Helena he was considering asking the federal government for help to stop riots in Butte that left scores of houses wrecked, two boys wounded and an unannounced number of mobsters under arrest.

As this copper mining center surveyed the wreckage from a second night of violence, labor leaders and public officials pleaded for cessation of destruction. Roving bands centered their attacks on homes of workers who did not join a miners' strike, city authorities reported.

Painter Pal Held In 'Ride' Murder

John R. Patterson, 41, of Waldo ter., Brighton, was charged with first degree murder in Dedham district court today in the ride slaying of Edward W. McCarthy, 37, Brighton railroad fireman, whose body was found in a lonely section of Wellesley. The defendant, immaculately dressed and alert despite all-night questioning, was given no chance to plead. Dist. Attorney Edmund R.

Dewing entered a not guilty plea, as soon as the complaint was read, explaining that the attorney who arrested Patterson's surrender was not in court. Judge Gilbert W. Cox granted a continuance until April 22.

Investigators whisked the defendant off to Dedham jail, guarding closely what they consider the motive and the circumstances surrounding the killing.

Patterson, a house painter, was quoted as saying that he last saw McCarthy at 6:15 p. m. Thursday, when they had been drinking together.

His surrender came after a three-day search, and after State Police Lt. John Daly and Police Chief Ernest Fisher of Wellesley received an admission from a Natick woman that McCarthy and the suspect were at her home a short time before the victim's bullet-riddled body was found.

The woman, mother of three children, told inspectors that the pair were at her home twice on Thursday, the day of the killing. She said they left her home the second time about 7 p. m. and seemed to be friendly.

The Natick woman said they left in a truck similar to the one seized later by State Police. She added she did not know if a third man had been waiting outside in the truck, another matter that police have not overlooked.

At 7:30 p. m. Wellesley police cruised through the area off Bacon rd. where McCarthy, fatally wounded, was discovered by a passing motorist at 8:30 p. m. Authorities claim the body was not beside the road at 7:30.

No murder weapon yet has been found.

Patterson surrendered at 10 o'clock last night and was booked five hours later, after continuous questioning under direction of State Police Comm. John F. Stokes.

It was from State police headquarters that he was taken today

Rods and Reels Blessed in Lynn

In a truly Old World Catholic ceremony, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing today blessed the rods and reels of more than 500 fishermen after celebrating mass at 5 a. m. in St. Jean de Baptiste Church, Lynn.

Gov. Tobin and Mayor Albert Cole were among the throng of sportsmen, most of them in fishing clothes, who attended the early mass before departing to enjoy the opening of the Massachusetts fishing season. The Governor went to nearby Sluice pond after mass to try his luck.

The colorful observance was inaugurated a year ago by Dr. Raymond A. Harpin, president of the North Shore Sportsmen's Club, which attended in a group. Many members of the organization were accompanied by young sons.

Archbishop Cushing recited a prayer of his own composition to St. Anthony, patron saint of fishermen, as part of the service.

PITTSBURGH, April 15 (AP)—The executive council of the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Unions has rejected a company offer of a 17½-cent-an-hour pay hike for more than 20,000 white collar workers, unless certain proposed contract clauses are changed.

25,000 Denied Heat in Strike

Twenty-five thousand men, women and children in eight Boston housing projects were denied heat and hot water today by a walkout of 38 members of an A. F. of L. heating plant operators' union.

Responsibility for the walkout was placed on the shoulders of John Carroll, chairman of the Boston Housing Authority, by Joseph P. McNamara, business representative of the union, who charged him with "provoking" the strike by "pushing the men around" and refusing to arbitrate.

McNamara said a committee of the union would visit Mayor Curley and demand he remove Carroll from his post on the ground he was "temperamentally unfitted" to handle labor relations and has an antagonistic and discriminatory attitude toward the union.

Heating system of the projects, two in South Boston, four in Roxbury and one each in East Boston and Charlestown, were shut off at 6 a. m. when the men walked out on strike.

The shutoff struck a heavy blow at the Old Harbor Village project, where many of the children are suffering or recovering from attacks of measles. A number of other children there are convalescing from pneumonia and two little patients are suffering from rheumatic fever.

Dr. Frederick J. Bailey, city health commissioner, ordered 16 inspectors from his department to visit the eight projects and report this afternoon on the effect of the lack of heat, particularly as far as children were concerned.

"I'm particularly concerned about the many infants," Dr. Bailey said. "If they are being endangered I will take emergency measures."

Jeremiah Sullivan, executive director of the Housing Authority, said few of the tenants were inconvenienced, since other employees had started operation in the coal-fired plants at East Boston and Old Harbor Village, South Boston, and that automatic oil-heating systems had been restored to operation in the other projects, but McNamara denied this claim. Many tenants supported him.

The walkout was called to support the demand of the union, the

6 Girls' Night in Woods

By JAMES J. DELANEY

BATH, Me., April 15—Six girls, the oldest 15 years, returned chilled and rain-soaked early today to the State's Military and Naval Children's Home, after wandering for 12 hours of darkness in swampy woodlands, where they became lost while picking wild flowers Sunday afternoon.

Devised of wet clothing and bundled into warm blankets and fed hot milk and cereal, the girls told how they had wandered away from familiar landmarks in the woods, then became lost just as the sun started to sink in the west.

Heroine of their wanderings was the oldest of the group, Celia Johansen, 15, who told of subduing her own fears to shepherd the panicky group of younger girls.

"I knew I was the oldest and that I was responsible for the others," she said. "I tried to show them I wasn't afraid, but really I was awfully scared. I guess I wasn't very brave, though, because I cried, too, when the others started to cry."

The others in the group were Elizabeth Choate, 8, and her sister Nancy, 10; Nancy Ryder, 9; Jean Marie Gage, 10, and Winona Garland, 13.

The Choate girls are daughters of Maj. Carlisle E. Choate of Munson, Me., a member of the famed Boston family, who is serving in Italy with the Army engineers. They have been at the home since December, 1944.

The girls, all children of men either killed or serving in the armed forces, made their way back to the home as two companies of State Guardsmen, police and civilian volunteers carried on a search that had started at dusk Sunday when Mrs. Helen L. Weber, superintendent of the home, became alarmed at the failure of her charges to return.

Although it appeared to be in good condition despite being rain-soaked and chilled by their night in the woods, a doctor was called to examine them.

They had gone to the woods early Sunday afternoon, as has been their custom, and on this occasion planned to pick flowers for Easter Sunday.

They headed for their two favorite spots, "Dewey's Cave" and "Johnny Goat Mountain," the Johansen girl said.

"We couldn't find any flowers there," she said, "so we went farther into the woods. When we started back we couldn't find any of our landmarks and we kept wandering but I guess we just went deeper into the woods."

"When the sun went down, it began to get cold and I told the girls we had to stay together. I'm not afraid of the dark, but I was afraid of that dark."

"We kept wandering around but everything looked the same."

"We heard shouts and a gurgling and we yelled like mad but I guess they didn't hear us. They seemed to go farther away. The girls were crying and tired when

He appeared perfectly at ease as the following complaint was read in court charging that:

"On April 11 he did assault and beat Edward W. McCarthy and by such assault, beating and shooting did commit murder."

Following his surrender and prior to the all-night questioning, Patterson had shown no such composure.

Oil Men Gave Tideland Grab Peague in 1940

By RAY RICHARDS

Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 15—Prematurely by a matter of years, E. J. Preston, promoter of the Pacific Undersea Oil Co., was promising his current and prospective stockholders in 1940 and 1941 that the Interior Dept. would file a United States Supreme Court suit immediately for seizure of state tidelands, to the company's enormous benefit. Success of the suit was predicted in the most optimistic terms.

And the persons on Preston's mailing list, those who had bought and those who might buy, were assured of an "early" decision, although the nation's highest tribunal usually requires years to hand down final judgments in litigation of that nature.

Five years were to pass before the suit actually was filed.

But it was a period in which the most intensive pressure for the suit was exerted on the Interior Dept. by the Pacific Undersea Co.'s influential Washington legal counsel, a firm headed by James E. Watson, former U. S. Senator from Indiana.

Finally, late in 1945, Interior Sec. Harold I.ICKER who previously had been denying applications for Federal tidelands oil leases on the ground that the submerged territory clearly was the property of the states, wise-cracked, "When I make a mistake it's a beaut," and asked a willing Justice Dept. to inaugurate an action which beclouds title to $100,000,000 worth of property.

All those facts are shown in documents in the possession of the Hearst newspapers.

They are revealed as the issue of state or federal rights to the land approaches one of its major climaxes tomorrow.

The climax will arrive in a meeting of the Senate judiciary committee to vote a report on a bill which would wipe out the Supreme Court suit by giving the states an outright congressional quitclaim on all submerged and reclaimed tidal soil.

Major sections of the country's biggest cities, as well as railroad rights-of-way and other vast works, are built on land reclaimed from the sea and navigable lakes and rivers.

Basic existing rights of the states to all this, and all the private titles that have descended from state ownership, are attacked in the government suit, urged so successfully by oil field claim-jumpers and watched so keenly by real estate title-jumpers in general.

On November 16, 1940, when the Pacific Undersea Oil Co. was named the "Nevada Metals Recovery, Inc.," Preston addressed a letter "To my Tidelands associates," reading:

"After two years of investigation on the part of the Department of the Interior and the United States Attorney General's office, I have been informed that these departments are now satisfied that there is no question but what the U. S. Government and not the State of California is the owner of the tide and submerged lands offshore in California, and the matter is to come before the Supreme Court for settlement shortly.

"When this question has been definitely decided, and decided in favor of the U. S. Government (which we have every reason to believe it will) there seems to be no question but that the U. S. Department of the Interior will grant to the Nevada Metals Recovery, Inc., the permits under the applications we have filed. That is what we have been seeking."

However, the Interior Dept. in 1939 had denied the company's application for about 2500 acres of the oil field off Huntington Beach, Cal., because it was state property.

THESE DAYS

By George E. Sokolsky

Copyright, 1946, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A LEGEND CONTINUES to this day among the Jews which it is pertinent to recall during these days of the Passover. This people, who have often been slaughtered as 6,000,000 of them have been in Europe in recent years, dwell in their folklore upon the Messianic Ideal; that is that the day will come when all men will be brothers in God and live in peace, contentment and happiness.

And so they have accepted the folklore that Elijah the Prophet never died but wanders the earth eternally, testing the piety of the people and the sanctity of the home.

It is on the eve of the first day of Passover, when all Jews gather together with their families at the Seder service, that one place is left vacant for the unbidden guest.

Herbert Hoover

Among the traditional rites at one point in the service, which Christians will recall as the Last Supper, a child opens the door, the elders pause to await the entrance of the prophet, who, of course, never comes.

It is a lovely ceremony, a reminder of hunger, fear, wandering, homelessness. It is also a caution never to forget hospitality, never to forget, even at a feast, that perhaps on the threshold stands a hungry one who would also eat if bidden to enter. It is even an admonition to those who enjoy the goods of the earth, that while all may be well inside the house, there may be deprivation and storm without.

SO WE TURN to the unbidden guest this year. There are at least 20,000,000 of him who will not have enough food to keep body and soul together. The more places Herbert Hoover visits, the more frightful are his reports. There may have been some who believed, when governments begged for bread, that it was politics; that perhaps some countries spoke of hunger because they wanted loans for political and economic purposes.

But Hoover speaks not of such things. He asks for bread and fats. He asks for vitamins to keep children from rickets. He asks for milk for feeding mothers. He cries for pity and mercy for the unbidden guest—the homeless and the starving.

AMERICANS NEED not be annoyed that their loaf will be an inch smaller or the color of their flour a shade darker; or even that for 90 days, they may be asked to eat oatmeal and potatoes instead of cake. Our homes have not been bombed. Even with all our complaints, we have eaten sufficiently. Most of us have our children. Have we so little thankfulness to a generous and good God that we begrudge a tiny sharing with those who are altogether hungry?

This Passover feast is a fascinating study in contrasts. The food is rich and plentiful; but the bread is unleavened, unsalted, tasteless and hard. The wine is sweet and four beakers of it are drunk sacramentally, even tasted by children; but bitter herbs are eaten and bitter herbs remain exposed on the table to remind those who have sweets that once they had only bitterness. And while ancient, traditional songs of gaiety are sung, the chair remains vacant for the unbidden guest who, wandering everlastingly, may seek a haven for the weary, the hungry and the heavy-laden.

If each one of us would for three months eat at each meal only one slice of bread less; if we would only eat a sufficiency and yet leave nothing on the plate, America could feed our hungry brothers. For not one of us, gazing at England, France, Germany, Poland and nearly every other country, can truthfully fail to know that but for the grace of God, she who weeps from the pangs of hunger is his mother.

Bitter OPA Debate Holds House Stage

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Friends and foes of OPA manned their biggest oratorical guns today, waiting for the signal that will open House debate on the bitterly contested issue of price control extension.

The outcome poses for President Truman his severest test on economic policy.

Rep. Moroney (D.) of Oklahoma told newsmen "There is danger OPA will be so amended—and made powerless to prevent inflation—that even enemies of price control will be ashamed of their handiwork."

The actual debate may not begin until about the time set for a mid-afternoon meeting of cotton state senators to give the price control agency a going over. Some have proposed that OPA be divested of control of all farm products.

Sen. Bankhead (D.) of Alabama, who called the meeting of senators, declared, "I'm disgusted with the way OPA is being run, and if they don't improve it I'll vote to knock the whole thing out."

Meanwhile, Economic Stabilizer Bowles was to urge before the Senate banking committee that OPA be continued another year without weakening amendments.

Meat Racket Perils Medicine

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—G. L. Childress, general manager of the Houston Packing Co., testified today that national supplies of gland extracts vital to medicine manufacture are threatened by the meat black market.

Childress urged before the Senate Agriculture Committee that all meat subsidies and price controls be abandoned. Predicting "the going legitimate prices of meat would never reach the present black market levels."

The Texan presented letters from pharmaceutical firms saying meat byproducts are wasted by black market slaughterers. Five large concerns, Childress said, have reduced production of glandular extracts "as a direct result of the diversion of livestock into the black market."

Slew Dad to Save Mother, Boy, 13, Sobs

RUTLAND, Vt., April 15—Sobbing uncontrollably, Robert "Bobbie" Kallahan, 13, lanky schoolboy, today told police how he shot his father to death in order to save his mother.

"I did it to save my mother. I had to do it. He was choking her and I tried to stop him. Then he came after me and I fired," the boy was quoted as explaining to authorities.

Tears filled the lad's eyes as he explained the shooting, which, he said, climaxed numerous quarrels and much discord between his parents, estranged since the father, Ashley, 48, left home last January.

"When I tried to make him let go of my mother, he turned on me and started after me. I kept backing up, holding the revolver and trying to scare him away, but he kept right on coming towards me. Then next thing I know, he had backed me into a corner in the kitchen and was coming at me. I pointed the gun at him. When he kept moving toward me, I started firing," the boy said.

Investigators said three bullets were fired into Kallahan's body. Mrs. Kallahan immediately came to the defense of her son, saying, "It was either him or me." The boy, tall for his age but slender, seemed dazed by the rapid turn of events following the

Dad to Return Girl Who Fled After Fire

Albert Sharpe of West Newton st., South End, was due to arrive in Chicago today to bring back his daughter Ellen, 13, who told police she had fled Boston in panic after accidentally setting fire to her parents' home.

The fire indirectly caused the death of an elderly woman.

Picked up by two detectives as she stepped from a long-distance bus in the Windy City, the distraught girl said she had run away because she had started the fire when she stumbled and knocked a lighted candle from a religious shrine in her home.

The girl said she had not known, until the Chicago police told her, that Mrs. Clara Bowers, 71-year-old widow, had died from excitement after being rescued from her apartment in the same building.

Before leaving for Chicago, Sharpe said his daughter, on her return, would sit down with State Det. Lt. Edward Feeney, attached to the state fire marshal's office, and tell him the whole story.

Feeney sent a telegram to the Chicago officials, asking them to release the girl in custody of her father. The girl, though detained, was not under arrest, and there is no charge against her.

Reported missing by her mother after the fire, Ellen was at first thought to have taken about $400 with her. Her father stated, however, that she could not have had more than $100, and had left behind $50 in her china bank and her bankbook.

American Sugar Refining Co. employees were given a wage of 90 cents an hour, retroactive to Feb. 15.

SHANGHAI, April 15 (AP)—Seven Axis nationals, whom U. S. investigators said were the remnants of a once-powerful Nazi spy network which continued to operate in the Orient four months after Germany's surrender, were arrested today. They included four Germans, two Italians and one Japanese.

Holy Week Rites Point to Climax

Ushered in by Impressive Palm Sunday services, Holy Week was being observed in Greater Boston churches today amid preparations for the climactic services marking Good Friday and Easter Sunday.

A timely feature will be the public unveiling in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts tomorrow at 3 p. m. of the 14th century painting of the crucifixion by Duccio de Buoninsegna.

A call to Christians to immerse themselves in spiritual union with God during the solemnity of Holy Week was voiced by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, speaking at St. Clement's Church, Back Bay, and Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, speaking at All Saints Episcopal Church, Brookline.

Jewry to Mark 8-Day Passover

Greater Boston Jewry begins tonight the eight-day observance of Passover with services in all synagogues and the reading in homes of Haggadah, the special Passover service.

The annual observance marks delivery of the Jewish race from Egyptian bondage. Unleavened bread will be eaten, commemorating the hasty flight from Egypt, and later habits will signify the people's suffering under their Egyptian taskmasters.

Passover will be observed as a full holiday tomorrow, Wednesday, and on Monday and Tuesday of next week. All other days are half-holidays.

Buy Low Sell Low

"Buy it at a LOW price"—"sell it at a LOW price"—it's the same old refrain when you do business to the "Automatic" tune. When you've been doing business on the same basis for 37 years, it's pretty good proof that the only kind of prices you are going to have are "LOW prices."

You see according to our one and only Automatic Plan if prices aren't LOW we lose money—and you can't be a going concern very long losing money—can you? Give the prices exactly right to begin with—make the first price so low that folks won't wait around for reductions—make the first price so irresistible the percentage of leftovers will be nil—AND THAT'S JUST WHAT WE DO! We watch our step buying only the right kind of merchandise and make doubly sure we price things LOW enough to sell out quickly. Hence, it's very simple to figure whether bargains for unpeeped $555555 or a few pennies, that it's quite possible to keep prices LOW to avoid compulsory automatic reductions 1/4, 1/2, 3/4 after 12, 18 and 24 selling days and the "give away" after 30 selling days. Do you know of another store with a plan like this that keeps a constant check-up on keeping prices DOWN, that encourages thrift—that LOWERS YOUR COST OF LIVING? In these days of easy money, spending sprees, wild speculation and get-rich-quick schemes isn't it a good thing to know that there's one institution where the good old-fashioned American sense of thrift hasn't gone out of style? Down to earth folks know that the only way to keep buying goods and to have a dollar in the bank is to save it. Filene's Basement famous for LOW prices for 37 years helps folks save as they spend. Regardless of the times, inflationary tendencies, fluctuating prices and what-all—you can't lose the right perspective if you trade where LOW prices are a habit—where millions save annually—and where thrift is a cornerstone of this unique business.

Hub Plans Banquet For Young Orators

By BERT FORD

Visiting students, winners of their local contests in the 1946 Hearst Newspapers National Oratorical Contest "Andrew Jackson, Seventh President of the United States," will receive a warm welcome at the Eastern zone finals to be held here April 24, at Boston Latin School.

Christian Mikado DES MOINES, April 15 (AP)

Emperor Hirohito is studying Christian doctrines and will embrace Christianity in the near future, the Rev. Bokko Tsuchiyama, a Japanese Christian minister from Osaka, told a Methodist youth rally here.

The Japanese people also are looking for a new religion, the minister declared, adding "thousands are going to follow the emperor's lead. They feel Shinto and Buddhism have failed and are turning toward Christianity."

They will be entertained, following their arrival here on April 23, at a banquet at the Copley Plaza, and on the following day they will be guests of Gov. Tobin at the State House and of Mayor Curley at City Hall.

There will be additional trips to Concord and Lexington, to Bunker Hill monument and other places made famous in American history, especially during the War of the Revolution when Andrew Jackson, at the age of 13, was a prisoner of the British.

There will also be, for the student contestants, a visit to Quincy, Adams.

The two Boston winners of their local contest, in both high school and college groups, will be hosts to the visitors from other cities in the Eastern zone. The Boston

Between orations in the zone finals there will be music by Ruby Newman's famed band, with arrangements by Sammy Eisen. Both Newman and Eisen will appear in person, following a special trip from their engagement in New York.

A member of this band is Miss Joan Hunt of South Boston, a trumpeter, and she is co-composer with Newman and Eisen of "Andrew Jackson Overture," based on popular songs during the Jacksonian era, and having its world premiere here.

Entertainment will also include the Girls' High School Glee Club of 80 voices, conducted by Joseph H. Gildea, assistant director of music in the Boston public schools.

 Special to the Boston American
SAN FRANCISCO, April 15—
 With prayer and eulogy and the bright voices of singing children, the United Irish Societies staged their 20th annual pilgrimage to the grave of Rev. Peter C. Yorke, the patriot priest whose name is still revered in San Francisco.

 While supplanted choir boys, against the background of ageless gravestones, watched with awe as the colorful pageantry of ancient church ritual unfolded in Holy Cross cemetery and Irish pipers played "Wrap the Green Flag Around Me," a hushed throng heard again the exploits of the Paris priest who died on Palm Sunday 21 years ago.

Recalling the faith and tolerance of Fr. Yorke, William Grisfin, editor and publisher of the New York Enquirer, characterized "the valiant soldier of right against wrong" as an unwearied champion whose greatest claims upon the gratitude of posterity were his services to the tolling masses.
 Griffin pointed to the need for a continued spirit of American-ism, so cherished by Fr. Yorke, and lauded the contribution of William Randolph Hearst to this cause.

Griffin added:
 "We naive sons of Old Glory are too prone to take for granted the liberty bestowed upon us by our forefathers in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. How different it was with Fr. Yorke during the strenuous decades he spent among us!"

"Proud of his American citizenship, glorying in the religious, civil and economic freedom which is the heritage of all Americans; mindful of the contrast between that freedom and the condition of affairs prevailing in his native Ireland under non-Irish rule, he gave an affectionate allegiance to Old Glory and worked with might and main to the end that, as far as lay in his power, nothing should ever occur which would destroy or impair the proud status of the citizens of this republic."

Other speakers included Matthew Murphy, consul of Eire, who laid a wreath on Fr. Yorke's grave in behalf of Prime Minister De Valera, and Malachy Ruane, president of the United Irish Societies.

UN Location Bares U. S. Secrets to Foreign Spies

By DAVID SENTNER
Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 15—Establishment of United Nations headquarters in the highly strategic New York-New England triangle will create a "spies' paradise" endangering national security, Col. Truman Smith, veteran army intelligence officer, warned in a letter to Rep. Luce (R.) of Connecticut.

Col. Smith, who served for 10 years as military attache in Berlin and from 1939 until his recent retirement with the military intelligence division of the War Dept. general staff, asserted:

"Except for a location close to Washington or Oak Ridge (the atomic bomb center in Tennessee), I can't think of any location less favorable to use from a defense point of view and more advantageous to an enemy espionage network than the Fairfield-Westchester site."

"Welcome as one may the UN in our country, it just isn't in our interest to make it into a spies' paradise. And yet the proposed 42-square-mile international enclave is just that."

"Thirty miles away from our largest Navy yard—Brooklyn—and our greatest overseas harbor—port of New York—and an equal distance from our machine-tool metropolis—Bridgeport—which our Ordnance Dept. has always considered one of the six most important cities of America with regard to national defense, it is, indeed, the answer to every intelligence agent's prayer."

On the basis of Col. Smith's authoritative viewpoint, Mrs. Luce today urged that security officers of the State, War, Navy and Justice Dept's make an exhaustive study of the matter and report congressional committees.

Joan Crawford On Divorce Trip

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD, April 15—Joan Crawford was supposed to go to Palm Springs for a vacation after she finished "Humoresque," but instead she went right on to Las Vegas, where she is registered at the El Rancho Vegas hotel under an assumed name.
Inasmuch as her two children, Christina and Christopher, are with her, there is only one conclusion. Joan is taking up residence in the Nevada city preparatory to seeking a divorce from Phil Terry.

It has been rumored the divorce was held up because of property settlement difficulties. She was married to the handsome Terry in 1942, and they have been separated for about six months.

Japs Imprisoned in Yank Killings

SHANGHAI, April 15 (AP)—Three Japanese officers, charged with war crimes in connection with the execution of three of the Doolittle airmen here in 1942, were sentenced to five years at hard labor today. A fourth defendant was sentenced to nine years at hard labor.

The five man military commission which heard the trial blamed higher governmental and military officials for the executions in explaining the surprisingly light sentences.

The Americans for whose deaths the Japanese were tried were Lt. Dean E. Hallmark, Dallas, Tex.; Lt. William G. Farrow, Darlington, S. C., and Sgt. Harold A. Spatz, Lebo, Kan., captured when their plane crashed on the China coast.

Jap Revolt Against U. S. Occupation Fails

SAPPORO, Japan, April 15 (AP)—Jap ex-servicemen on Hokkaido island attempted a "resistance" movement against American occupation forces, but were unsuccessful. Maj. Milton O. Lee of Boston, Mass., senior military government officer, reported today.

The people, looking upon the American occupation as sort of an emancipation, rejected the movement, Lee said.

Pepper Pleads Jewry Be Aided

SCRANTON, Pa., April 15 (INS)—Sen. Claude Pepper (D.) of Florida charged that Jews in Europe are still being hounded into ghettos, plundered and murdered.

He told the northeastern Pennsylvania conference that somehow there must be a reconciliation with the Arabs.

Sen. Pepper pleaded that the nations keep faith with six million massacred Jews, turn out those governments which will not keep the peace, outlaw the atom bomb, and disarm to work to repair the damage of war and provide the goods and services of peace.

Greater security for more people

Each year more people find security for themselves, for their families and for their businesses through the American system of competitive insurance. Under this system those companies which have been most effective in providing safe, sure protection at low cost have won leadership.

For the tenth successive year, Liberty Mutual has been the largest writer of Workmen's Compensation insurance among all companies. More than 3,000,000 workers and their families are protected under Compensation insurance policies placed with us by their employers. We are also entrusted with the responsibility of safeguarding 350,000 home and car owners against the possible loss of their homes, their possessions and their savings. To all these the financial standing of this Company is of direct interest because it is their assurance that we have the resources to meet our obligations on time and in full.

It is our purpose to work closely with our policyholders to help prevent losses; and to promptly and fairly pay the losses covered by our policies.

To make these purposes effective, we have an organization of 4,585 men and women, including 684 who have recently returned from military service. We expect that many more will rejoin our staff before the year ends.

By dealing direct with responsible business, home and car owners who are interested in preventing losses we have continued to provide sound protection at low cost. In 1945 we returned dividends of $13,714,929 to our policyholders and their savings since organization in 1912 have totaled $158,043,488.

With the continuing cooperation of policyholders in preventing losses we believe that insurance protection can be broadened and that insurance costs can be controlled. Of much greater importance, fewer people will be crippled and many lives will be saved. The true worth of our service will be measured by the work we do to help people live safer, more secure lives.

Now...no wheat used in beer or ale

And wheat alone can solve the problem of feeding the world's hungry

Actually wheat has never been a large item in the brewing process—only  $\frac{8}{10,000}$  of the entire United States wheat crop was used in 1945.

In accordance with U. S. Government policy, the brewing industry has used no wheat whatever since March 1, 1946.

OTHER MATERIALS CUT 30%

The other grains used have been reduced by 30%—that is, to 70% of the 1945 amount.

Wheat alone can solve the problem of feeding the hungry. The grains to which the industry is now restricted, are of a variety and grade not normally consumed by the people of the world as food.

LESS BEER AND ALE

Altogether, the brewing industry is using 30% less materials than in 1945. This results in a proportionately lower production. But since the current demand for beer and ale is about 25% greater than a year ago, the real shortage is nearer 50%.

Consequently, your dealer will not be able to supply you with all the beer and ale you would like. We know you will understand the reason for this.

Your attention is earnestly directed to the recommendations of President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee, which are summarized in the box below.

This statement tells in clear, simple terms what each of us individually can do to help during the emergency.

What the President's Famine Emergency Committee asks us all to do

1. Save and share wheat and fat products : : : Go light on all foods that take wheat, fats and oils—save breads, macaroni, cakes, cookies, pastries and deep-fried foods. Use drippings for pan-frying. Save salad oil—use boiled dressings.
2. Buy and serve more plentiful foods : : : Balance diets with the more plentiful foods, such as potatoes, fresh fruits and vegetables.
3. Waste NO food : : : Dress up today's leftovers for tomorrow. Make every crust count with melba toast, crumb-toppings, bread puddings and stuffings. Take no more than you can eat. Clean your plate. Turn in unusable fat salvage promptly.

Waldorf CAFETERIAS IN 45 CITIES AT THE SIGN OF THE RED APPLE

The Government Asks OUR HELP

BEGINNING TODAY EVERY WALDORF Cafeteria wholeheartedly will accede to the requests of the President, and the Famine Emergency Committee, to serve to our customers but a single roll or slice of bread, rather than the usual two.

● In this way we hasten to show our willingness to cooperate with the requests of the Government, to help conserve the wheat and wheat flour so necessary to save from death by actual starvation millions of helpless people in Europe and Asia who are in dire want. Already their condition is desperate, and the calls for help from across the waters of both oceans cannot help but touch the heartstrings of every true American.

● All bakeries and dining places throughout the land have been asked to cooperate. Flour supplies have been drastically cut. As is so often the case Waldorf seems to be the first of the great restaurant organizations to act, and so without waiting for the others, in this way we have started to stretch our limited stock of flour. We know full well the humanitarian concepts of our customers will prompt them both to applaud and approve.

● We hasten to say that any patron may have the second roll or slice of bread simply by asking for it. We in no way wish you to think we are cutting any portion of the meals you buy. Approved by the Office of Price Administration, it is all meant to be merely a trifling sacrifice in which we all participate so that millions in foreign countries may have a chance to survive.

● And if I know Waldorf customers, and I think I do, I am sure they will get up from our tables, after each meal, greatly conscious of the fact that because of that extra roll which they did not have, perhaps either some hungry tiny tot abroad or some elderly person in those stricken countries may be saved from death.

It's so little they ask of us... let's all help!

RED FASCISTS ON PAYROLLS

THIRTY THOUSAND concerns throughout the country have been warned by the Research Institute of America that the employment of Communists is a business risk which OUGHT NOT TO BE UNDERTAKEN.

The report points out that the danger—AND THE DAMAGE—is present with respect to Communist-controlled labor unions as well as individual followers of the Moscow party line; and suggests methods of keeping Red trouble-makers off the payrolls.

"No improper discrimination for political or union membership is involved," the document explains.

"The employer's need to PROTECT HIMSELF in hiring flows from the fact that the C. P.ers have DIVIDED LOYALTIES which are likely to present A MAJOR HAZARD to the normal operation of the business institution.

"Recognizing and acting on this fact is an essential element of day-to-day personnel work."

The report also cautions employers that: "Whether your company will have stable employe relations may, curiously, depend on future American or Russian foreign policy.

"Soviet foreign policy is the barometer of the activities of a C. P.-dominated union.

"American C. P.ers live by one principle—Russia first."

Making the prediction that the re-constituted Communist Party is going "all out" for "widespread strikes—strikes which will be based on exaggerated charges and demands," the report likewise declares that "compromise, conciliation and arbitration" will be opposed and "mass picketing, disregard of injunctions, mass meetings and violent shock tactics" will be utilized.

This Communist attitude, it is asserted "TENDS TO FORCE OTHER LABOR LEADERS TO EXTREME POSITIONS."

In the Communist practice, every party member must contribute a fixed part of his earnings to the party treasury.

The Communists thus use the free enterprise system to finance a program devised to DESTROY FREE ENTERPRISE.

This circumstance alone justifies all employers in refusing to hire "Red Fascists" or in getting rid of them if they have been hired.

The biggest employer in the country is the United States Government; and it seems evident that the Federal Government is itself the leading employer of Communists.

The place to start a payroll purge, therefore, is in WASHINGTON.

COLLEGES' DUTY

FREDERIC J. BAILEY, Boston Health Commissioner, has warned college students that they cannot violate the municipal sanitation regulations in desperate efforts to solve the housing problem.

According to Mr. Bailey, forty-two young men, many of them war veterans, were found sleeping in one room in a Back Bay house.

Why can't college authorities induce the owners of large homes and estates in Brookline, Newton, Wellesley and other adjacent communities to give these students free room and board in exchange for a few hours' work a week?

Colleges and universities are falling in their obligations so miserably that their officers and trustees must strive mightily to prevent the people who have supported these lavish institutions for years through tax exemptions and other favors from rising up in justified indignation.

Instead of turning away former service men who want the educational opportunities their country promised them when they took up arms, why don't the colleges and universities lease halls and arenas and utilize them as subsidiary classrooms?

A young man can learn history, economics, literature and languages as well in the Mechanics Building as he can in any Harvard auditorium.

In our hearts, fond memories of him calm
The grief of sisters, brothers,
His Dad and Mom.
We close our eyes and see,
Again the way he walked and ran,
And hear his laugh while,
Sporting guns or playing Superman.
Now that his life's sojourn is
And he has found his heavenly rest,
We thank God, his kin and parents,
That in life he gave to all his best.

—PRESCOTT.

THE ABOVE is part of a poem written in memory of the author's son, David Lee Prescott, who at the age of 3½ years was drowned in the Upper Iowa River at Decorah, Iowa, trying to save the life of a little girl. The girl, 5 years old, also was drowned. . . . Wallace Saunders, a Negro worker at the Canton roundhouse of the Illinois Central Railway, was the composer of the song, "Casey Jones." Saunders always sang while working and made up his own songs. He knew Casey Jones, the engineer, well. This inspired him to originate a song about the now celebrated accident in which Jones was involved. This Saunders sang many times at the Canton roundhouse. . . . It had such a strong appeal it was soon being sung by railroad workers throughout the South. It was never printed and consequently never copyrighted. Therefore, though the song became one of the greatest hits of all time, Saunders never profited from it financially.

QUERY FROM CLIENT: Q—H. Allen Smith says 50 cents a night is a fair tip for a Pullman porter. He also states bellboys should be tipped a dime for each piece of baggage they carry and that hotel maids should be tipped $1 a week by regular guests. Do you agree? A—The tip for the Pullman porter depends on what type of space is occupied, but should never be less than $1 a night.

The minimum tip for a bell-boy carrying luggage should be a quarter. As for the tip to the maid, that depends on the class of the hotel and the price of the room. Certainly shouldn't be less than $2 a week in a first class hotel.

SIDELIGHTS: The oldest Grand Army man in the State of Ohio is Oakley Bailey of Alliance. On June 14, 1946, Mr. Bailey will be 103 years old. He's probably the oldest Grand Army man in the country. . . . Which State has the greatest number of quaintly named towns, Maine or Washington? I think it is Washington. This query was inspired by seeing an item stating that Jockey Walter Lutenberg of Wapato, Wash., married a girl from Topenish, Wash. . . . A Bostonian claims there are 14 ways to spell the name Kelly, but expects to state what they are. I can only think of eight ways of spelling that name. . . . Musicians in film studios are now asking, and will probably get, a minimum of $200 a week, for a 10-hour week. How I wish I had practiced the piano faithfully as my mother wanted me to. I might be a musician now. A 10-hour working week just suits me.

ALIMONY FOR HUSBANDS: Do you know a divorcee who is paying her ex-husband alimony? Quite a few ex-wives are now mailing alimony checks to their erstwhile spouses. Recently in California a divorcee was ordered arrested for non-payment of alimony to her ex-husband. She quickly paid and so narrowly escaped being tossed into jail. It is now possible for a husband to demand alimony in 12 states, namely: California, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, Minnesota, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, Virginia and Washington.

ASIDES: Among the many "firsts" of which Brooklyn can boast is that it was the locale of the first handball court built in the United States. The builder was Phil Casey, who later became the world's handball champion. . . . Give a thought to what Dr. Henry M. Wriston recently said: "Let government govern, and not manage; let it police, not control; let it restrict itself, not enterprise."

PLEASE NOTE: At present, 1952 of the nation's 3070 counties are dry. Those people seeking to eliminate the consumption of strong drink are making some progress by the local option method. Incidentally, it is said the film "The Lost Weekend" has done much to aid the prohibition cause, particularly in the rural sections.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Copyright, 1944, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A FEW WEEKS AGO, John F. Kieran, Jr., a veteran soldier of the recent war, now a student at Harvard Law School, wrote me his views of the American Veterans' Committee, one of several new organizations, and sent a copy to Charles G. Bolte, chairman of the committee.

Westbrook Pegler

Mr. Bolte also wrote me proposing a discussion by us of the matters mentioned in Kieran's letter.

It occurred to me that the best way to enable veterans and the public generally to appraise this group and another, the American Veterans of World War II, in a sense rivals, would be to invite statements in support of both.

Accordingly, Mr. Kieran has written an article which runs here today and Jack W. Hardy, National Commander of American Veterans of World War II, commonly called AMVETS, has sent a statement from the national headquarters in Washington which will run tomorrow.

Mr. Kieran, of course, has no need to invoke the reputation of his illustrious father, but I think the reader would like to know that he is the son of John F. Kieran, the noted essayist and radio pundit.

It has been necessary to edit his article slightly to make it fit the space, but I am confident that he will agree that the sense of the piece has not been impaired.

MR. KIERAN WRITES:

"I belong to no veterans' organization and have no complete political sympathies with any as yet existing. I constitute a veteran's group of one—myself—to which no one else may belong. But, as a matter of conscience, I would like, temporarily, to come to the defense of the AVC.

"The veteran of this war is supremely conscious of his nation's position in world affairs and the vital, undeniable importance of the domestic problems co-extensive with it. It is his business and his right. The AVC serves as one medium of expression for him along this line. He is made articulate by his more gifted associates. That, of course, is typical of any pressure group in America.

"I do not believe it fair to label an organization without giving it a chance to manifest its position by indisputable actions. To do this would be to weaken it prematurely and, to our own detriment, by keeping out the persons we want in, sapping the effectiveness of those already members in whom we have faith and driving the others to an inconsistent position, which they must, of necessity, adopt in order to meet our attack and maintain their pride intact. . . . Moslems, as the cleavage, dissension and mutual hatred grow, the political opportunists and ideological misfits, who masquerade under every virtue known to man, and specializing in balancing interests, move in and 'capture'.

"THE AVC has not yet given us anything concrete to go on. It has had to work through sketchy polls of whichever members could be contacted and through the cabinet-type policy-making board it set up for self-expression. It has not always been an accurate reflection of the entire organization. So we have no real basis for abuse. In June the first AVC convention will be held in Des Moines. There the majority voice will be heard in formulating a platform of objectives into which we can sink our teeth in constructive or destructive criticism.

"It is a heterogeneous group, containing, to my personal knowledge, men of all creeds and beliefs, social and political. It is just beginning to find itself. It will, after June, 'ake many strong stands on controversial subjects. I shall probably disagree violently with many of them. But I could not, in my heart, deny their right or refuse them my acknowledgement of their sincerity, to stand so, without, in effect, cheapening everything for which many of them, including Bolte, himself, Cord Meyer, Sherman Laird, and others, fought valiantly.

"CHARLES BOLTE is a highly intelligent, sincere young man who is an excellent bulwark against Communist infiltration. He has been attacked many times by the Daily Worker. Merle Miller, to whom you referred in your column, wrote a scathing denunciation of any attempt to get the AVC to follow the Moscow line.

"To the names mentioned as having been connected with organizations from which some rather dubious political opinions emanated, I can offset the names of Mr. Stassen, Cord Meyer, Oren Root, Jr., Phil Willkie, Evans Carlson, etc., who seem to me to strike a sturdy balance of interest and strength."

Boston After Dark

HOLLYWOOD, April 15 — I've been writing movie news for a long time — but this is the first time I've ever known of a producer signing a starring contract with a beautiful blonde he's just broken off with romantically. I mean Ben Bogeus, who late Saturday put Dolores Moran under a long-term contract and will star her in "Jonathan Loves Them All," an original by Arch Oboler, the radio writer-producer.

Plans are so far along that Burgess Meredith is already set for the leading male role. But to get back to Ben and Dolores: Until just a few weeks ago everyone expected they would be married sometime this year but lately things have seemed to have cooled. Both of them have had "dates" with other people. But what's to keep a smart gentleman from believing a beautiful girl is all material even if the embers have cooled — or have they?

Irene Dunne

ARTHUR FREED, who likes nothing so much as bringing the live of great composers to the screen so he can feature their most famous song hits and scenes from their outstanding musical comedies, has his eye on "The Life of Vincent Youmans." Before Youmans died he was out here and told me he had several offers for his life story and seemed very interested. Now M-G-M will try to buy the rights to such favorites as "Great Day," "No, No, Nanette," "Hit the Deck" and innumerable of his popular songs from his estate.

IRENE DUNNE has let RKO know that when they are ready to put "I Remember Mama" on the screen, she is interested in the role of Mama. With Kathryn Forbes in town I had an idea that perhaps the starting date was not far away, but William Dozier tells me the picture won't be made for a full year because the play is going so strong on Broadway. When it is made, he says RKO expects to use Oscar Homolka, who plays the uncle, and possibly Barbara Bel Geddes as Katinka, the narrator. That's the role Joan Tetzel created on the stage.

THE EXPECTED ARRIVAL in Hollywood of Lord Lascelles, grandson of Dowager Queen Mary, nephew of King George, and son of the Princess Mary, will mean a lot of social functions. Who says Parsons doesn't know her royalty? I've lived so long—through all of these regimes—Queen Victoria's even—well a few years of it anyway. But it's about this generation we're speaking. Queen Victoria was Lord Lascelles' great grandmother. Anyway, the Darryl Zanucks are the first with an invitation for the young man. Mr. and Mrs. Zanuck will give a dinner dance, May 1, at their beach house in his honor. He's a war hero, having been a German prisoner since Dunkirk, which means he was there during most of the war.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: The one girl in the world Turhan Bey's mother approves of is Susanna Foster, and whenever Susanna is in town, she's with the Turk's mother constantly. Susanna came to Universal last week with Mrs. Bey, or whatever her name is, to see the last picture Turhan made before he went overseas, "Night in Paradise." He's now in Guam, and as I said once before, I'll be surprised indeed if Bey and Susanna don't marry when he's out of the Army. His mother has always liked Susanna, and she carries a lot of weight with her son.

POOR ROY ROGERS—he's eight pictures behind on his Republic schedule, and if he makes all he's supposed to make, he will have completed 16 by July, 1947. Roy tells me he's dead tired, having just made six, so tired that he does not know whether he's standing or riding on his favorite Pinto pony. He almost didn't get to go on his rodeo tour, because of all the pictures piled up, but he compromised with Papa Yates and will do his rodeo stint in St. Louis and Chicago in September and October. He has to give up the spring tour. "But next year," says Roy, "I'm not going to make no more pictures." Well I can't say I blame him.

THE JOHNNY JOHNSONS have reached a money settlement, and Mrs. Johnson will file suit for divorce immediately. I asked Johnny if he was going to marry Kathryn Grayson. He said, "She's a wonderful girl, but I have caused her enough trouble and I don't want to say anything, or do anything that will hurt her." But I gather that Johnny is very much in love with Kathryn and if in a year hence he feels the same way, could be they'll marry. They both have music in common. He has a grand voice and so has she. And we all know that after nine separations from her husband, John Shelton, she has been a very unhappy, mixed up little girl.

I WAS SORRY, indeed, to hear that Lillian Harmer has been very, very ill. All of those who loved dear Mae Robson, grew to know Lillian very well. For 25 years she was Mae's devoted companion and friend. The two girls had been actresses in the same play, and Lillian gave up her career to go and live with Mae. How she babied her and looked after her, and when Mae died most of her fortune went to her friend of so many years.

FILMLAND'S POPULATION was increased yesterday with the arrival of two boys and a girl. Robert Ryan, RKO leading man, became the father of a seven pound boy, and the Nickie Nayfacks also welcomed a boy into the family. Nickie is the nephew of Joe and Nick Schenck, and was married about two years ago to Patsy Smith. On the anniversary of his mother's 83d birthday, Director Irving Cummings again became a grandpa when his son's wife, Mrs. Irving Cummings, Jr., gave birth to a baby girl.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: The Ralph Ingersolls expect their baby June 9. His new book, "Top Secret" has just been published. Peggy Kent is in Reno to get her fifth divorce. She's the daughter of the late Sydney Kent, former president of the 20th Century-Fox; Mrs. Koerner, widow of Charles Koerner, popular RKO head, has just undergone an operation and is recuperating at the Crupa and his wife Ethel are having a hard time making that reconciliation go. He leaves Thursday for the East and she won't be with him.

LANA TURNER entertained all of her admirers at dinner just before she took off for New York—and, by the way, Bob Hutton planned out of here almost the same time, but that doesn't mean a thing on account of, at this writing, his heart belongs to June Haver—and June Haver left Saturday for the big town; now we can relax. Peggy Cummins and her mother have found a three-bedroom house and she doesn't have to live in a motor-court anymore; Joe Kirkwood, Jr., who almost married Eleanor Parker, is now Nancy Marlowe's big moment; Mrs. Jackie Cooper is a twin and the Coopers won't be too surprised if the stork brings the former child actor and his bride two babies instead of one; Jack Beutel of "Outlaw" fame or infamy, gets out of the Navy May 1; Van Johnson, who was operated on Thursday, is improving.

MONDAY MUSINGS: Along come the Spewaks, Bella and Sam, with a play called "Woman Bites Dog" which New York will see Wednesday night for the first time... It is a satire on the woman newspaper publisher just as he was when—with 80 per cent of his fellow-countrymen—resisted in his futile, unorganized, impotent way such measures as those which shoved America into a war it didn't want... That 80 per cent might well have been wrong in its successive resentments against destroyers for bases, against the draft against the neutrality act, against almost everything the inspirational Roosevelt clique stood for... Let us admit at once that perhaps it was saved—that 80 per cent—from itself... But let us admit its right to a hearing—even on the American stage, recently largely a soapbox!

PITY The poor "reactionaries," whatever they are... They have been under constant attack by our playwrights, including the pseudo ones who dominate the unlamented Federal Theater, since 1935... In all that time, not as many as one single play has been offered on an American stage which had as its hero or heroine a character who could be described as a middle-of-the-road individual—a person devoted to no "ism" other than the Americanism cherished for so long

ISN'T THERE a playwrighting voice anywhere which can be raised on behalf of a man or woman who went about his or her business of living—yes, and fighting—for America without espousing the "liberalism" so fashionable in play scripts for lo, these too-many years?... The answer seems to be a "No!"... And if such a manuscript, should miraculously make the rounds of the New York producing offices, it would have as small a chance of production as most of these preachments for the "liberals" really merit... Which is very little, indeed—believe me.

"WOMAN BITES DOG" is said to bear the sharp bite of the Spewaks' collective tongue, and the crisp brittleness which marked their successful "Boy Meets Girl" and "Clear All Wires"... Hence it has a good chance for success... So be it... Yet this corner is firm in its belief that a well-written American play based on a real American's determination to stand up and fight for the right to his own way without undertones or overtones of some ideology borrowed from the desperate neo-European world to be a success... Probably, such a character as we imagine would be called a conservative... The fellow travelers and the Marxmen of the screaming "liberal" organs, you may be sure, would call him a "Fascist."

Any American who rebels at giving scientific secrets and a few billion dollars a year to Russia is a "Fascist" these days,

MEAT AND BUTTER can be counted out of most Easter menus, we are told, as the steak shortage is the climax of what was inevitable when the black market took over from the legitimate packers back in 1944... The greedy black marketers have sold themselves out of goods, and the packers simply aren't able to take over the problem.

Take the matter of tattooing, a subject about which I know practically nothing but am willing to learn a great deal.

I mentioned in this space some days ago about the murals on a gentleman of society named Adolph "Herman" Speckles, which reportedly include a pig and a rooster on the tootsies. A devoted follower dashed to his desk and apprised me further on this colorful subject to wit:

"The pig and rooster on the feet are an old naval superstition and supposed to make the wearer safe from and proof against drowning forever. The tattooing job on him was done by Chris Nielsen of Market St., San Francisco, a celebrated needle artist. As for Herman's other adornments, one of them I know to be a blue and red war horse from the pattern of which he (Nielsen) did an exact duplicate a few years ago on Lucius Beebe."

"Nielsen is one of the tattoo men died in some prison by the Navy. There are several on the China coast, one or two in San Diego, and one, I understand, in Covo of real piety."

"Incidentally, and I don't vouch for the legend: There is a belief in some circles that no man known to be tattooed will be considered for membership in some of the tamer gent's clubs in town."

"Haidie Emma Yates, the cowgirl, is the only tattooed lady I ever heard of outside of professionals. She has something on one thigh."

WASHINGTON, April 15 — I was discussing the Russian-Iranian situation with a very high official of the War Department the other day and he asked me if I had ever read the will of Peter the Great. I said I hadn't because Peter didn't leave me nothing, the old skinflint, and this high official said it might well be worth my while to do so.

"It was written before Peter's death in 1725," he said, "but, by golly, it might be taken for an exposition of Russian foreign policy today."

This will, I discovered, is accepted as genuine, particularly in Iran, which, as you know, used to be Persia. Under the old regime, Russian ambassadors always kept a copy among their private papers to guide them. Here is the will:

"In the name of the Most Holy and Indivisible Trinity, We, Peter I, Emperor and Autocrat of all the Russias, to all our descendants to the throne and government of the Russian nation: The All-Powerful, to whom we owe our existence, makes us regard the Russian people which is constantly guided by His light, and sustained by His divine support, as called in the future to be the dominant races in Europe. The idea strikes us from the fact that European nations have for the greater part arrived at a state of old age allied to decay, or at all events this approaches them with rapid strides. From this it results that they ought to be easily and assuredly conquered by a young and new people, when the latter shall have attained their force and power.

"I regard the approaching invasion of the Western and Oriental nations by the North as a periodic movement decreed and designed by Providence, Who in such manner regenerated the Roman people by means of an invasion of barbarians. This emigration of men from the direction of the Pole is like the reflux of the Nile, which at certain times nourishes with its mud the western land of Egypt. I have found Russia to be this river, and so I leave her. My successors will make her a great sea destined to fertilize impoverished Europe, and if my descendants know how to direct the waters, her waves will break through any opposing banks."

"It is just for this reason that I will leave the following instructions, and I recommend them to the attention and constant observation of my descendants.

"To keep Russia in a state for continual war, to hold the soldier ever ready, and never give him rest except for the purpose of recovering the finances of the country and the improvement of the army. To choose the most favorable moment for attack, to follow up peace by war, and war by peace, in the interest, aggrandizement and growing prosperity of Russia."

"To entice by every means possible from the cleverest people of Europe officers during war and navies during peace, in order to improve the Russians at the expense of other nations without losing her own advantages."

"To take part on every occasion in the affairs and discussions of Europe, whatever they may be, and especially in those concerning Germany, who as our most intimate neighbor interests us more directly."

"To divide Poland, and keep up in that kingdom a constant disorder and continual jealousy, gain over the other powers at the price of gold, influence the Polish assemblies and corrupt them, so as to obtain an interest in the election of kings, to name partisans and protect them as an excuse for the entry of Muscovite troops there, to remain until the day arrives for a permanent occupation. If the neighboring powers put forth difficulties, to tranquilize them for a moment by dividing the country until we can retake as much of it as we have given up to them."

"To take as much as we can of Sweden, and induce her to attack us in order that we may have the pretext for subjugating her. For this purpose we must isolate Denmark from Sweden, and favor the rivalry between these countries."

FOR THE NEXT half dozen clauses Old Pete continues to leave the world to Russia by outlining how to cross up Britain and eventually gain the Dardanelles and India; how to take over all the Baltic and the Black Sea, and finally obtain possession of "all the greater portion of Europe."

MAYBE STALIN and the Soviet leaders do not revere the memory of the Czarist regime but it certainly looks as if they had spent a little time absorbing the word of Peter.

Eggs Now a Main Standby

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

TRANSLATE THAT little phrase "a la mode" literally, and it means "in fashion." Right now, eggs almost any way you like them, are "a la mode." There's an abundance of them on the market.

Eggs will serve as one of your main standbys in the months to come when the butcher's refrigerator looks quite bare. They're a fine source of protein and contain essential vitamins and minerals. But those are things to keep quietly in the back of your mind. Just serve a dish as tasty as some of the following, and there'll be no need for urging on your part to get anyone to finish and ask for more.

CREAM CHEESE CHIVE OMELET

$\frac{1}{4}$  lb. cream cheese
4 tsp. finely chopped chives
6 eggs, separated

GORI BEAUTY SALON
431 WASHINGTON ST.

$\frac{1}{4}$  cup milk
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. pepper
3 tbsp. salad oil

Work the cheese and chives with a spoon until light and fluffy. Then, with a spoon, beat in egg yolks, one at a time. Blend in milk, salt and pepper. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to peak; fold into cheese mixture with a spoon. Meanwhile, heat salad oil in the 2 compartments of a large omelet pan, or a large skillet, greasing the sides well. Pour in the omelet mixture, and cook over low heat for 10 minutes, or until bottom is lightly browned. Then bake in moderate oven of 350 deg. F. for 10 minutes. Remove from oven, and loosen edges well with a spatula. Fold over omelet, and turn out onto a platter. If a skillet is used, cut across center of omelet without cutting all the way through. Then fold over carefully, and turn onto a hot platter. Garnish with parsley, watercress, or chicory, and serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

EGGS AND SPINACH AU GRATIN

6 shelled hard-cooked eggs
3 cups hot seasoned cooked spinach
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  cups medium white sauce
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup grated pimiento cheese

Cut the shelled hard-cooked eggs in halves. Arrange layer of the spinach in the bottom of a greased casserole, then a layer of the egg halves, and next a layer of white sauce. Repeat these layers until the ingredients are used up, having white sauce on top. Sprinkle with the grated pimiento cheese. Bake in a moderate oven at 350 deg. F. for 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Deserted, Must Help Daughter

DEAR Miss Fairfax: I am a mother 27 years old and have a daughter 8. My husband deserted us, and it's been rather hard taking care of my daughter and working at the same time. I love her dearly, and it almost breaks my heart to leave her.

Miss Fairfax, I wonder if you could help me get a job in some motherless home or some other home where I could keep my daughter with me?

WEARY MOTHER

I can fully understand what a hard problem you have in trying to make a home for your daughter under such trying circumstances, and of course you want to be with her as much as possible.

Would there be any possibility that you could get a part-time job for the hours when the child would be in school? There are so many demands these days for part-time workers in all sorts of capacities—housework, salespersons in stores, taking care of children, etc.—that you should have no difficulty finding a place where hours could be arranged so that you could be home with your daughter after school and in the evenings.

If you wanted to try for a homemaker's position in a motherless household—and such opportunities do present themselves occasionally—I think you would have to watch the "Help Wanted" columns of the newspapers in the nearest large city to you, and be prepared to go anywhere the opening might happen to be. You're not likely to find opportunities of that type in a small town. Or you might put a little advertisement yourself in the "Work Wanted" column, stating that you are a mother with a young daughter and are looking for a housekeeping job where you could keep her with you. Good luck to you!

Skin Needs Pampering

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

MADAME DE MAINTE-NON was 50 years old when she fascinated Louis XIV to the point of marriage... a man who could have the pick of any and all beautiful and young women in his domain. He remained faithful to her until he died, at which time she was at least 80.

It is said that the outstanding feature of her beauty... besides her lovely intelligent eyes... was her marvelously smooth and beautifully clear skin. Now then... consider yourself. You need not put away your dreams of youth every time your mirror brings you face to face with the fact that time marches on. Don't the tulips bloom again?

Do you see tiny lines, a suspicious crepiness, a tendency to sag? Does it feel dry, rougher than it should? You may be certain your skin needs a thorough and consistent pampering with a rich lubricating cream.

Here's one... compounded of rare, exquisitely blended oils... that can be a wonderful aid in helping keep your skin resilient, velvety smooth, discouraging tiny lines and dryness. On a clean skin... apply this superfine cream morning and night.

For the name of this pampering skin cream, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, Monday through Saturday, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Push-Up Sleeves By Bang

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

STRIPES, checks, men's suitings in classic mannish tailored suits are side by side with dressmaker types that tie at the waist for a fullish peplum . . . or button with chaste decor to give full flare to a full skirt.

Hansen Bang . . . whose suave "modelling" in wool is always a high spot of every New York style season . . . likes men's suitings in classic design . . . cut simply and without "Christmas trimmings." His dresses have the suit look . . . and his suits have the dress look.

Fashion is doing strange things. All designers are trying out an idea. A new silhouette is being formed in this country . . . and by fall it will be more definite. But just at the moment . . . it is in a transitory stage. This being a season of silhouettes, anything goes . . . as long as it doesn't look like what you wore last year or the year before.

But woolsens . . . and Hansen Bang doesn't let us forget their popularity for general use . . . in as many weights, surfaces, weaves and textures as one wishes . . . are ready to go places, do things and contribute to a smart, gay and variegated spring fashion scene.

(Tomorrow's Designer:
Rose Barrack)

AN AGELESS SUIT. Very simply tailored but clean cut as a jonquil . . . it's wool for spring. For town . . . at work or at play . . . for shopping and lunching in the modish manner . . . this Hansen Bang blue and white men's suiting classic takes the Oscar. Its jacket is slightly longer . . . slim-hipped and torso-moulded . . . has large, flapped-pockets . . . and is a four-button story of young elegance. The blouse is navy crepe.

You for Spring

CURVES come into the fashion vocabulary and picture this season after five years of monotonous straight-line severity. But they are well-directed curves to keep the feminine silhouette within the bounds of clothes poise and grace. Should the curved silhouette get out of hand, both the clothes and their wearer will suffer.

There is big news in shoulders, which take on rounded contours as a radical change from the T-square formation of past seasons. And they make for a more personable appearance.

Hiplines make big news, too, whether they are rounded with a fit as smooth as glass, or "distended," but not overbearing so, to create the illusion of a new silhouette. Handspan waistlines have been revived to make women figure-conscious, which is a good thing all around. But no matter how you view it, the new silhouette is graciously favored this spring to make women pleased with their appearance.

We are beginning to feel the first waves of momentous style-change; and it is all for the best. But however style changes, I believe the utmost simplicity combined with fine workmanship is the style achievement of a well-dressed woman.

Adrian in Bang

PUSH-UP SLEEVES wing this navy wool dress and jacket costume by Hansen Bang into top-ranking smartness . . . endowing it with the suit look so important and impressive this spring. The short jacket . . . self-banded down the open sides and around the edge . . . and button-linked below the waistline . . . is just right for the exaggerated frontal fullness of the skirt beneath it. The top of the dress is light blue crepe . . . with a touch of fuchsia in the stitching for the tab-finished neckline.

BIG POLKA DOTS for a little suit of navy and white spun rayon is Hansen Bang's whimsical adaptation of the new silhouette. Here we have rounded shoulders and hips and fully padded sleeves for a spritely presentation of the pronounced urge to more freedom in dress. The four-buttoned short jacket is banded from collar to hipline in navy. Shall we dance? And under summer skies . . . you could in this cut-for-comfort-and-coolth two-piecer.

Expert Analysis as Sox Open Postwar Season

By AUSTEN LAKE

LIKE FARM BOYS RETURNING to the little red school house the Red Sox begin their annual pilgrimage of hope to-morrow at Washington. This writer has been looking studiously the other way during the last five years and, thus qualified as a baseball expert, will unequivocally and without mental reservations, choose the Sox as this year's "team to beat."

Austen Lake

No aspirin is offered with this prophecy, because in past seasons the Sox were always the team to beat and 'tuther teams of the American League did it very emphatically. But why feel liverish? The robins are nesting! It's time again for April optimism! It's the season of hope, my hardy perennials!

Here come the Sox with an infusion of young boiling blood to mix with their older corpses. Here stand a couple of million ball customers fingering their money and ready to yell their larynxes loose.

A New Joe Cronin!

ONE HEARS FROM AN INTIMATE source that Joe Cronin, stirring his twelfth year as Sox manager, has cultivated a new field manner. The cherubic look that Joe brought to Boston in '34 has gradually faded to a lean, semi-grimace from long peering into foggy futures. I am told that Joe, who is ambitious to win his first pennant in Boston, has been practicing the art of getting angry before the mirror of his Chestnut Hill bedroom.

This is very vital to any pennant success because all the managers who have won pennants during the last 15 years have been guys who could throw a fine hysteric as the occasion required. But the last time I saw Joe he was a pious, polite young man who insisted on hogging all the worry for his athletes and I used to advise him in this pillar to worry less and make them worry more. In my flare for highfalutin lingo I used to call this his "negative quiescence," although I never really understood what I meant by that.

There are only four or five players on this year's Sox team with whom I have been acquainted since and that would include the little scholarly fellow with the eyeglasses in center field, and the solemn, silent brunette at second base, and a taciturn, lean left-hand pitcher, and, of course, Ted Williams. I have known them comparatively-latelies at whom, with your kind indulgence, I will have to peer very earnestly from the press peck before I begin ruthlessly glorifying or condemning them with my knack for the bold, blunt truth.

But back to Joe Cronin! I know it all he can get mad all over and practically fly into a psychopathic frenzy, though for illustration I have to go back to the year before he became the Sox permanent manager. That was in 1930 when old Charley Moran, the umpire who you may recall kicking football to the Praying Colonels of Kentucky, which shows you how long ago it was and how rarely Cronin blows his emotional cork. Anyway, Moran carried an itchy decision against Washington and then ejected a Senator player from the premises for rude and uncouth language. Well, land sakes, out stormed Cronin, screaming and squawking words which you will never learn the text of in this famous journal. He ran around kicking up puffs of dust and making sulphurics and scaring everybody with his face.

And that was the last time I recall seeing Joe, a man of much inebriate courtesy who I don't think has ever behaved himself out of a ball game in his long career, got on a full rousing mad. But a thing once done can be repeated. And repetition in time becomes habit. So there is just a chance that Joe, who is about 40 now with his eyes better than I can sell, can conquer his native refinements and by diligent study of the hoodlum arts become as cantankerous and hard to live with as the best.

BUT WHICHEVER WAY HE

B's Pilot Picks Cooper to Open Against Brooklyn

By BILL GRIMES

Which is the better test of managerial ability, and also, the more trying on a manager's nervous system, winning a pennant with a pre-season star-studded favorite or maneuvering a perennial second division club into the money bracket?

Right now, Billy Southworth, manager of the Braves, isn't qualified to answer those queries.

Mort Cooper

But he will be, along about the fourth of July. After a most successful career as pilot of the St. Louis Cardinals, "Billy the Kid," come tomorrow, when his Tribe opens the 1946 National League season with "Lippy" Leo Durocher's Brooklyn Dodgers at Braves Field, will be put to the test. Probably, there isn't a better manager in either league than Southworth, but unless the Braves acquire a power hitter or two and a couple of pitchers, the Tribe's new boss is in for a rough season.

Southworth will shoot the works tomorrow. He will start his "ace" hurler, Mort Cooper. During the training season, Cooper was instructed to take things easy. He underwent a second elbow operation last fall. As yet, he hasn't encountered any ill effects. On the few occasions when he let out, Cooper displayed his old-time speed. He should get the Braves off on the right foot, if his mates got all of the bad baseball out of their systems yesterday.

Throughout the Grapefruit League season and on the trip north Billy frequently announced one lineup and then started another. So, possibly his announcement that he would open with the same club that started yesterday's game, should be taken with a grain of salt.

"Skippy" Roberge is supposed to be at third but Nanny Fernandez may get the nod.

There isn't a power hitter on the Braves' payroll, with the exception of Fernandez, and Max West. Unfortunately, both Fernandez and West haven't been hitting of late. But, once they recover their timing, they'll force their way into the regular lineup.

Tommy Holmes, who battled Phil Cavaretta down to the wire for top batting honors last season, and Johnny McCarthy haven't been hitting any better than Fernandez and West. So, the Tribe has been relying upon Bama Rowell, Connie Ryan, Phil Masi and Johnny Hopp to supply the offensive punch.

Southworth has been sizing up the Braves for two months. He fully realizes the herculean task confronting him. During the six weeks at Ft. Lauderdale, he was very evasive when cross examined on his club in general and seldom did he commit himself on any individual player.

Practically all he knew about his club in the middle of February had been acquired while directing the Cardinals against the Braves in 22 games each season. He soon realized that that wasn't enough to warrant going out on a limb. His reluctance to comment favorably on his club was a wise decision on the part of Mr. Southworth. He'd be very sheepish today, if he had, after what took place yesterday at Fenway Park.

There'll be four rookies in the Dodgers lineup tomorrow. They're all up from the Montreal Royals. They are Dick Whitman, Gene Hermanski, Carl Furillo and Ferrell Anderson.

Hermanski played around here with the Coast Guard and Frasers of Lynn in 1944. He gave a memorable exhibition of power hitting two years ago against the Tribe at Braves Field when he sprayed extra base hits all over the park. All spring, Leo Durocher and Branch Rickey were at loggerheads over whether the Dodgers should field a veteran or a young club. Leo went to the front for the veterans but Rickey refused to yield and finally pulled his rank on "The Lip."

Manager Durocher felt that the veterans could and would keep Brooklyn up in the race. But Rickey came out flat-footed and stated that he would "build character" this season and that the Dodgers would be a pennant contender in 1947 or 1948.

Kirby Higbe will start on the hilltop for the Dodgers, with Anderson doing the moving.

Before the game, a color guard comprising of 20 Marines will hoist the flag, while the Braves and Dodgers are lined up along the third and first base lines and Gov. Maurice J. Tobin will throw out the first ball.

If anyone tells you that the Red Sox were trying to show up the Braves yesterday while hanging on that 19 to 5 defeat, DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT. Between their poor pitching and the numerous errors of omission and commission, the Braves themselves were responsible for the overwhelming defeat.

There were 33,279 paid customers at Fenway Park yesterday. An hour before game time, Gen. Mgr. Eddie Collins predicted that an all-time record for attendance at Intra-City Series games would be established. That terrible and humiliating shellacking will not be a meddler to attract the fans to Braves Field tomorrow. And, right here, we'll say that Billy Southworth cannot go along with his present lineup. He'll send the Sand-Daubers to Worcester today to play Holy Cross. . . The infield will comprise of Max West, first base, "Whitey" Wietmann, second, Sibby Sesti, shortstop, and "Ducky" Detweiler at the hot corner, with Nanny Fernandez, Carden Gilkerson and "Chuck" Workman in the outfield. . . Bob Williams, Frank Lamanna, Earl Reid and Elmer Singleton will do the pitching and Stu Hofferth, Hughie Poland and Bob Keely will divide the catching assignment.

The Braves have signed Gerald Patton to a Hartford contract. . . He's a shortstop a year and a half older than his brother Gene, who is with the same club. He's a left-hand hitter, with power and will join the Chiefs as soon as he has been discharged from the Navy, with which branch of the service he has served for four years. . . Al Javery is due to report to the Braves today.

8 Teams in Boston Park Dept. Loop

The newly-organized Boston City League, under the direction of the Boston Park Dept., will make its 1946 debut Monday evening, May 6, according to an announcement by director Bob Cusick.

Eight teams make up the circuit which will play a three-game a week schedule throughout the playgrounds of the city and suburban areas. The outfits are St. Lazarus of East Boston, Colored Giants, two American Legion teams, the Mission Hill Post, No. 227, made up of World War II vets, and the Cassidy Post of Roxbury, Brighton Catholic Institute, the Armstrongs, Boston Blue Sox and a Hyde Park nine.

Sullivan vs. Sebastian In Arena Bout Tonight

By JACK CONWAY

BOXING REFUSES to be slowed down by the baseball or race track openings, and will continue on its merry way in Boston this week. The scene shifts from the Garden to the Arena where the Callahan A. C. will stage four ten-round bouts tonight headed by Tommy Sullivan of South Boston and Bat Sebastian of California, while the Sharkey A. A. will take over the ring and the ringside pews tomorrow evening to feature Al (Red) Priest, New England's hottest ring card, against "Jiggs" Donahue of Philadelphia.

Tommy Sullivan, Joey LaMotta-Joe Blackwood go, but they should give action and keep the enthusiasm of the fans at a high pitch.

Harry Kelley has the aggressive and hard hitting Sullivan ready for Sebastian. Sullivan furnished one of the most sensational bouts of the indoor season when he stopped John Henry Eskew. If Tommy can win over Sebastian, and on form he should, he can go on to become a top attraction.

Tommy Greb of the West End, who was recently badly over-matched, has been dropped back where he belongs and will take on Tommy Moore of South Boston in another ten.

Greb, like many another youngster boxing at the smaller clubs, has promised, if he gains experience. Such youngsters should be nursed along carefully and not pitted against experienced fighters who defeat them and possibly destroy their spirit. There should be something more to boxing than merely arranging a card that will cause the customers to part from their money.

In other tens, Eddie Ellis of Quincy will take on Ernie Forte of Providence, while Mad Anthony Jones of Champaign, Ill., will mingle with Coolidge Miller of Brooklyn.

Many Challenge Priest

IT HAS BEEN many years since as many boxers were challenging a single New England ring star as is true in the case of Al (Red) Priest of Cambridge who clashes with "Jiggs" Donahue of Cambridge in a 10-round bout at a Sharkey A. A. show at the Arena tomorrow night. The list includes Joey LaMotta, Joe Blackwood, who fought such stirring draw at the Garden, Coley Welch, New England middleweight champion, Jimmy Doyle, who has gone under the management of Paul Doyle, and Jake LaMotta. If Priest can keep winning, he will be able to keep busy in the ring and earn more than $30,000 to $40,000 before the year ends.

Priest is in the best condition for his tussle with Donahue. Al, while winning, always seems to have hard fights. This is partly due to the fact he does not adopt safety first methods. He tosses leather from the opening gong.

Donahue, who has made a good record in bouts in Philadelphia, will try to upset Priest's plans.

Johnny Pretzie of Waltham will appear on the same card with Ernie Griffin of Hartford as an opponent. Griffin scored a kayo win over Jimmy Liscomb here recently.

There will be two eight-rounders. Dave Andrews of Lowell will meet Frankie Young of San Francisco, while Johnny Seaman of Quincy will oppose the Brown Bomber of Boston.

Ray Andrews, brother of Dave, will collide with Frankie Martin of Providence.

Randon Shots at Target

HORSES ARE arriving daily for the Narragansett Park meeting that opens on Saturday. . . Former Army Sergeant Steve Casey is back in Boston from the West Coast and he will clash with Henri DeGlane in a finish bout at Paul Bowser's mat show at the Arena on Thursday night. . . Casey was one of the first prominent professional athletes to enter service when the United States entered the war. . . Steve lost his wrestling title to Frank Sexton and if he wins from DeGlane he will demand another crack at the new title holder.

Mrs. Bee Simons will once more have chance of the concessions at Suffolk Downs this coming season. . . Mrs. Simons took over the management of the business when her husband, Sam Simons, died, and she has done an excellent job at Suffolk Downs, Rockingham Park and at the Boston Garden. . . Suffolk Downs has been getting about $130,000 as its cut of the concessions at the track.

CLOUTIER VS. LANCASTER

Maurice Cloutier of Manchester, N. H., will show his fistic wares before the home folk tomorrow night when he faces Billy Lancaster of Portland, Me., in the feature bout of 10 rounds at the Bedford Grove Arena. Both boys are stiff punchers and some lively action should take place.

Red Sox May Miss Williams And DiMaggio for Opener

By HERB FINNEGAN

WASHINGTON, April 15—Their batting eyes sharpened in the 19-5 victory over the Braves at Fenway Park, the Red Sox detoured here this morning, breakfasted, partook of a final tuneup at Griffith Stadium, then rested for their opening game of the 1946 season with the Senators. That will be played tomorrow before President Harry Spencer Truman and 34,000 less notable guests.

It will be a momentous season. It is bound to be with all the pre-war favorites back in harness.

Never was the team's optimism for the game better exemplified than 24 hours ago when 33,278 paid to see the Red Sox and Braves, 33,187 to see the Yankees and White Sox, and 24,911 to see the Cubs and Dodgers, 24,911 to see the Cubs and White Sox, and 24,911 to see the Cubs and White Sox.

The Sox are among the favorites to cop the pennant but they may not get away from the wire fast. Ted Williams, for one, is under the weather, Dom DiMaggio for another.

"Started feeling weak in Lexington last Wednesday," said Williams, who hit two home runs, a single and batted in seven runs Friday against the Braves. "I'm just weak all over and my throat is sore. Sudden change in climate must have caused it. Hope it's warm tomorrow."

DiMaggio missed Sunday's game because of an aggravated leg pull, first received last week in Dothan, Ala. "He'll play," Trainer Win Green announced, but Dom won't be at his superlative best, and if he goes driving for that extra base he's liable to hurt himself again.

Wagner has a sore hand, and may not start. Metkovich a sore hip, and Gilbert a sore back which forced him to leave Sunday's game in Boston. However, Tex Hughson is ready to hurl not only tomorrow's opener against the Senators but Saturday's Boston opener against the A's. And Bobby Doerr, though none too happy over his three fielding lapses in the last Braves game, was glad to regain his batting stride. He had four hits and seven RBIs in the Sunday game.

"I didn't hit all week," he said, "and I was beginning to get worried." So he went out to the park early Sunday for private batting practice, and looked like the 1944 Doerr against Braves pitching.

Doerr's three errors, made in successive innings, two on successive plays, gave the crowd a chance to make merry at his expense.

"I had one other day like that," he recalled. "It was in Portland, Ore., when Eddie Collins was scouting me. I kicked four that day, and if I hadn't recovered Rowell's grounder in a hurry, I'd have tied that mark. Perhaps I ought to worry about my fielding instead of my hitting."

Well, as Del Baker quipped, any man who bats in more men than he kicks in is doing all right. But it was strange to see Doerr bobble three because in '43 he accepted 348 successive chances in 60 games without a miscue, a new major league record.

Two positions remained undecided upon as the Sox detoured. "I'll announce the lineup tonight," said Cronin, who was deliberating whether to start Andres or Culberson in right field. He'll probably decide on Andres at third because the former Navy lieutenant is hitting the ball and has three years at Louisville as background while Culberson is new at the bag. And Metko probably will get the call in right field because he bats left-handed and Washington's right field was much nearer than the left field bleachers.

The Sox are well fortified for the race, with boys like Culberson and Gilbert behind Williams, DiMaggio and Metkovich, Flair behind Doerr, Pellagrini behind Pesky, McGah and Fytkal behind Wagner. Their only uncertain spot is pitching. Cronin is worried lest there be a sharp drop-off after Hughson and Ferriss. We'll see.

New Coaches Slated For Cantab Schools

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Schoolboy athletes—not to be outdone by the opening big league games and the return of horse racing to New England—will toss a third feature to the sports program, remnants of football news, into its usual riotous spring campaigning.

Two exhibition games have been played on the gridiron but there's still plenty of excitement in the ranks.

Fridarily, there's the old situation in the Cambridge schools to be settled with Ted Galligan of Saugus High and John "Tweet" Reardon stepping up as new head coaches. They'll probably be approved at a meeting of the school committee tonight, appointed to Rindge Tech and Cambridge Latin in an attempt to pull the destiny of the schools out of the slump.

And so Mitch Metivier and Tom Smith of Rindge Tech and Adam Elciewicz of Latin—like Nick Morris of Lynn English—have been stripped of their football powers. Galligan's shift, however, may be an opening for Morris at Saugus, although it's possible the former Holy Cross star will stay on at English to mastermind baseball and basketball. But his first love is football so he may swing back to the Sachems.

Then, too, there's Johnnie Grinnell's appointment to North-eastern, clearing up an awkward situation at Brookline High.

In baseball, Boston College High School and Boston English were being tipped as the teams to watch as they opened their campaigns today. The Eagles, with Dick Shellenback on the mound against Dorchester, and the Blue and Blue, with Jim Ronan and Mario DiGeorge as a battery against South Boston, had ample veteran material to send the teams off to a flying start for a state championship berth.

Track will be headlined by the Invitational meet of Concord High School, to be held Saturday afternoon with Belmont, Lexington and Watertown battling the host club. There'll be nine events with special trophies in three events in memory of former Concord High stars who died in World War II.

The Lt. Merton Sanborn, U. S. Marine Corps, trophy will go to the 100-yard dash winner; the Thomas J. Hanley, U. S. Army, trophy to the half-mile winner and the Joseph Sheehan, U. S. Marine Corps, trophy to the mile champion. The High School Athletic Ass'n will give the first two and the CYO will contribute the other.

Greek Champ In Marathon

Topped by the entry of Gerard Cote of Montreal, three times winner of the B. A. A. American Marathon run and Stylianos Kyriakides, of the Olympia A. C., Athens, the Greek National Marathon champion who flew to this country last week, a list of 19 entries was announced yesterday by Pres. Walter A. Brown, for the 50th annual B. A. A. race which will be held next Saturday over the Hopkinton to Boston course. This makes a total number of 78 entries received to date.

In addition to announcing the new list of entries, Pres. Brown also gave out the information that for the golden anniversary run, he had received the acceptance of Daniel J. Ferris, National A. A. U. secretary-treasurer, to act as referee.

Cote won his first B. A. A. Marathon in 1940, when he established a then new record for the course of 2:28.38 3-5s. Two years later this mark was broken by Joe Smith of the North Medford Club, who established the present course record of 2:26.51 1-5s. In 1943 Cote came back to win his second B. A. A. race and the following year again repeated his victory. Last year the great Canadian long distance star was in the European theater of war with a Canadian Army outfit.

Eagles' Squad To Be Reduced

Freddy Maguire, Boston College baseball coach, will announce his final cut sometime this week. It was announced at the Heights today. The Eagle mentor plans to slash his squad to between 20 and 25, but said that he is not yet certain as to who will be dropped.

With his opening game Saturday against Northeastern, Maguire will make his decisions on the results of a series of inter-squad games to be played the first few days of the week.

The B.C. mentor has been dividing chores between a pair of infielders, one equally as strong as the other and will probably retain both quartets. Three catchers in Bob Fitzgerald, Charlie O'Malley and Leo Nugent, will give the Eagles one of the most potent behind-the-bat crews in collegiate ball. Five pitchers, who have shown the best to date, namely Frank O'Callaghan, Mike Crimmins, Paul Martin, Bob Quirk and Jerry Lovinson are expected to be retained and the remainder of the squad will be made up of outfielders.

Woodcock Here For Tami Test

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—Bruce Woodcock, 192-pound British Empire heavyweight champion, is definite on the subjects of American food for himself and a satin bathing suit for his bride-to-be — but he's not at all sure how he'd do with Joe Louis.

The 25-year-old thumper, who has flattened 23 of 24 opponents since he turned pro four years ago, flew in on the Pan-America clipper last night, with particular appreciation for the chow they served on the trip.

The fifth British Empire champion to invade the American box office, he's going to fight Tami Mauriello in Madison Square Garden May 13 and he figures that one shouldn't be too tough. But, about Louis—

"Well," he explained, "I saw the film of his fight with Tommy Farr in 1938. Louis is a good fighter—a good fighter."

"I suppose," he went on, "I could stand up with Joe. I would like to have a go at him."

Also on the plane was Kenneth Baily, moustachioed British distance runner who will participate in the B. A. A. Marathon April 20. Sat satin bathing suit is the gift Bruce will take back for Norah Speight, the Doncasters dressmaker who will become Mrs. Woodcock.

Off his record, he figures to be a pretty fair flauter.

"He's a stand-up kind of fighter, with the original orthodox English style," his manager, Tom Hurst, who did some fighting here 20 years ago, describes him.

Woodcock would go home May 15 and decide later about coming back—depending on how he does with tough Tami from the Bronx. Financially, that one should be a screaming success, because Mike Jacobs figures it will draw a fancy $100,000, with Bruce cutting in for some 30 per cent.

Anglers After Trout As Season Opens

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

A record number of anglers—including Mayor and Mrs. Curley in a rowboat at Jamaica Pond—and a few fish featured the opening of the trout season at Metropolitan streams and ponds today.

The best catch of the early morning session was made by Lee Roberts of Boston, who hooked a 20-inch rainbow. The Curleys had no luck.

At the popular hot spot—the Charles River Village dam on the Needham-Dover line—the boys were wading in without much more luck. The only good string was in the possession of Clayton Smith of Islington who hooked 6 Brownies.

At such popular nearby spots as Jamaica Pond, Lake Waban, and the Charles River section in Needham, scores of fishermen parked their cars hours before sunrise, waiting to be among the first to wet a line.

Anglers are reminded that the daily bag limit on trout is 12, and the minimum legal length, 6 inches; EXCEPT in the Deerfield river or its diverted waters, Millers river, and in all great ponds, where the daily bag limit is 6, the legal length, 9 inches.

April 15 also marks the start of the season on several other species in the Bay State: Yellow and white perch, sunfish, shad, salmon, pike, perch, pickerel, horned pout, muskallunge, crappie, calico bass and blue gills. Take your choice!

OUTDOOR O. O.'s—If you are planning to enjoy a fishing vacation in Maine this summer, why not contact Sgt. Ira Scanlon, Jr., Lovell General Hospital, South, Ward 31, Fort Devens, Mass. This wounded serviceman expects to be released in about a month, when he will head for Eastern Grand Lake, in Washington County, Maine, to open his little sporting camp. The sarge says he can promise parties of three or four anglers some nice bass, salmon and trout at this spot, and he'll keep his word!

"Wonder why the Massachusetts trout season has to open April 15?" a veteran angler wants to know. "It's generally too cold at this time of the year, with ice in the streams of our northern sections. I'd like to see the date set ahead to May 1, and two weeks in September for fly fishing," he adds. "The Old Timer may have something there."

Outdoor activities were numerous over the week-end... The Needham Sportsmen's Club conducted its spring field trials, while many of the members fished for trout in their own pool... The newly-formed Mayflower Skeet Club took over the grounds of the old Hilltop Club, at Holliston, and gunners galore enjoyed the sport... A big field trial will be held next Saturday and Sunday at Hingham, sponsored by the Hingham Sportsmen's Club.

EISENSTAT HEARS RATTLE

CLEVELAND, April 15 (AP)—Harry Eisenstat, veteran south-paw pitcher obtained by the Cleveland Indians in 1939 from Detroit in a trade for Earl Averill, last night was released unconditionally by the Indians. Eisenstat's release reduced the Tribe roster to 36 players.

The 30-year-old lefthander, recently discharged from the Army, yielded four runs and three hits in a one-inning relief stint yesterday in an exhibition tilt with the New York Giants.

Jim Jeffries Marks Birthday

BURBANK, Cal., April 15 (INS)—Jim Jeffries, the world's heavyweight champion from 1899 to 1905, will celebrate his 71st birthday today full of thanksgiving for recovery from a paralytic stroke two months ago that kept him bedfast for five weeks.

Jim, who says he "was pretty lucky," will celebrate the day by having a few old cronies out to his Burbank, Cal., ranch home for a talkfest. His home, which he built 45 years ago, is across the street from his famed "barn" where he stages amateur fights for promising young heavyweights.

Season Opens—Mayor and Mrs. James M. Curley were out bright and early today with rod and reel to open the trout season at Jamaica Pond. Thousands of Isaac Waltons like the mayor and his wife were in quest of the 422,200 trout released by the Fish and Game Division in waters throughout the entire Commonwealth. P. S.—The Curleys' luck was bad: They didn't catch a single one.
